The Coca-Cola Company
P.O. Box 1734
Atlanta, GA 30301, USA

Dear Coca-Cola Company,

Thank you so much for taking the time to read more about me, and the love I have for your company. Someone who is self motivated and willing to tackle any task, are a few characteristics that describe my work ethic. This may come off as being negligent towards other ways of solving problems, but I work well in a team setting and am very open to their ideas and solutions.

I first learned of this position when researching large corporations who practice public relations internally and through the media. It has always been an aspiration of mine to work for Coca-Cola, and feel I can bring a lot of creativity to the company. What interested me was Coca-Cola's influential status on Political campaigns, and how the company utilizes its large voice.

Thank you again for taking precious time to consider me for the internal public relations position at The Coca-Cola Company. I look forward to hearing from you in the future.

Sincerely,
Megan Watkins
